SOUL COAL

Consumable (Uncommon)

Source: Home-brew
Store in: pouch
Use as ingredient for: Potions, Scrolls, Weapons, Armor, Shields, Rods (Fire), Wands (Fire), Staffs (Fire), Rings (Fire), Wondrous Items (fire)
Crafting Value (when used as ingredient): 50 GP
Use: Weapon enchant, Torch

When applied to a weapon as a Bonus Action, add +1d4 Fire and +1d4 Necrotic damage to attacks with that weapon for 10 minutes, and attacks to incorporeal creatures ignore resistances to Slashing, Bludgeoning and Piercing damage.
If used on the end of a torch, the fuel lasts for 1 hour, it sheds green-blue Bright Light in a 30 ft radius and Dim Light for an additional 30 ft, and incorporeal creatures become corporeal losing resistances to Slashing, Bludgeoning and Piercing damage while illuminated.

Cooking Effect: When used as fuel in a fire to cook, you can prepare magic food for up to 4 people. When this food is eaten, for the next hour you emit a faint blue-green glow and are surrounded by a 5 ft emanation of Bright Light. Incorporeal creatures in the emanation, whenever they would resist Bludgeoning, Slashing, or Piercing damage because of their being incorporeal, subtract 2 points of damage from the total instead.

PARALYTIC DUST

Ingredient (common)

Source: Home-brew
Store in: pouch
Use as ingredient for: Scrolls, Spells, Arrowheads
Crafting Value (when used as ingredient): 5 GP
Use: Weapon Enchant, Arrowhead
Description: These undead claws retain some paralytic effect after harvesting. You can use a Bonus Action to apply this to a weapon. When applied to a weapon or 1 ammunition, a paralytic effect is added to it for up to 1 minute that can affect creatures that aren't Undead. The effect is removed after 1 hit or 1 minute, whichever happens first, and you can use a larger quantity of dust to increase the number of hits or ammunition without needing to spend several Bonus Actions to do so. When hitting with the weapon or ammunition, the target makes a DC 12 Constitution Saving Throw, and becomes Paralyzed until the end of its next turn if failed. The dust can otherwise be used as 5 GP worth of materials towards the 25 GP necessary to craft Paralytic Ammunition (Common)(10), which retain their paralytic effect instead of lasting 1 minute.

Cooking Effect: When used as a spice for cooking, you can make food with a special effect for 4 people. When eaten, you become Paralyzed for 1 minute. Try not to eat it yourself.

Use: Weapon Enchant, Arrowhead
Description: These undead claws retain some paralytic effect after harvesting. You can use a Bonus Action to apply this to a weapon. When applied to a weapon or 1 ammunition, a paralytic effect is added to it for up to 1 minute that can affect creatures that aren't Undead. The effect is removed after 1 hit or 1 minute, whichever happens first, and you can use a larger quantity of dust to increase the number of hits or ammunition without needing to spend several Bonus Actions to do so. When hitting with the weapon or ammunition, the target makes a DC 12 Constitution Saving Throw, and becomes Paralyzed until the end of its next turn if failed. The dust can otherwise be used as 5 GP worth of materials towards the 25 GP necessary to craft Paralytic Ammunition (Common)(10), which retain their paralytic effect instead of lasting 1 minute.

Cooking Effect: When used as a spice for cooking, you can make food with a special effect for 4 people. When eaten, you become Paralyzed for 1 minute. Try not to eat it yourself.

On a failure, the target takes 3d6 Psychic damage, and they must take a Reaction to attack a creature you decide that is within range of the attack. On a successful save they take half damage and no additional effect.

Alternatively, you can spend 1 charge to create a 60 ft radius field of fungi that lasts for 1 minute. For the duration, creatures in the area (excluding you) have the Poisoned condition, and the area is Difficult Terrain.
